

Nick Xavier Acevedo

Bioengineering Student at University of Texas at Arlington

1700 Melissa Lane, Cleburne, Texas, 76031 – 817.659.9007 – nick.acevedo@mavs.uta.edu

Objective:

Eager and passionate bioengineering student with decent knowledge about computers and programming seeking a technology based environment to test my skills and expand my personal knowledge and mastery of these skills.

Education:

University of Texas at Arlington, Arlington TX (Fall 2013 - Present)

Engineering College Junior

Anticipated Bachelors of Science in Bioengineering (May 2018)

Notable classes:

Organic Chemistry I & II plus Laboratory

Physics I & II plus Laboratory

Biology I & II plus Laboratory

General Chemistry I & II plus Laboratory

Professional Technical Communication

Introduction to Programming

Calculus I, II, III

Skills:

- Bilingual - Fluent in English and Spanish.
- Excellent at collaborating with colleagues.
- Solid verbal communication and writing skills.

Volunteer & Community Service:

National Beta Club—Fall 2011, Spring 2012, Fall 2012, Spring 2013

Position held: President – Fall 2012, Spring 2013

20 hours per semester: 80 hours total

Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America—Fall 2009, Spring 2010, Fall 2012, Spring 2013

Position held: Parliamentarian - Fall 2012, Spring 2013

20 hours per semester: 80 hours total

Certificate of Participation and completion of the FCCLA Power of One Program

Academic Awards:

- Carter Blood Care Certificate of Achievement

Interests:

Physics | Chemistry | Biology | Mathematics | Video Games | Computer Science | Design