

CALEB OSBORN

Computer Science

1414 Avenue D · Danbury, TX 77534

979.285.5197

csosborn@uh.edu

INTERNSHIP

PROFILE:

Committed to a career combining formal education in Computer Science with practical work experience. Experience in physics, mechanics, Java, C, and C++ programming, as well as interpreting mechanical drawings, working knowledge of power tools / lathes, and practical team-based lab work.

EDUCATION:

University Of Houston · Houston, Texas

- Computer Science Major (August 2015-Present)
- Honors Engineering Program (August 2012- August 2015)

Practical Team-Based Lab Work:

- Arithmetic Logic Unit Project
- Matlab
- Infrared Optical-Listener
- Labview
- Expected Graduation Date: December 2017
- Cumulative GPA: 2.65 (includes MECE courses)
- Major GPA: 3.00 (Computer Science)

WORK EXPERIENCE:

FlexElement Texas · Houston, Texas (August 2012 – Present)

- Oil and gas industry - internship
- IT support, high-performance coupling assembly, inspection, and maintenance

Kelm Engineering · Friendswood, Texas (July 2012 – August 2012)

- Interpreting mechanical drawings, and exposure to professional engineering

ORGANIZATIONS:

Triangle Fraternity (2013 – Present)

- Risk Management Chair (2014)
- Judiciary Board Member (2014)

Boy Scouts of America (2005 – Present)

- Eagle Scout (Attained August 2010)

INTERESTS:

Systems Optimization, Process Technology, Web Design, Internet Technology, Mechanics, Electronics, Aerospace, Aviation, Technology Design, Entrepreneurship, Hunting, Fishing

REFERENCES:

Available Upon Request.